

There he is, Watson.

Our murderer.

Yūji Kumakawa!

SHERLOCK BONES

Case 2 ♣ A Script for Death, Part 3

He he he. That's all right! He must be very shy, but he is very cute.

Lies! I only attacked you because you killed Miss Risa!

I'm sorry, Komakawa-san.

Sher-dog!

This man...

...Can think on his feet.

GER...

To think he'd reveal that he's been bitten, to prevent it from coming up later.

He's a more formidable opponent than I thought, Watson.

...that I am the reincarnation of Sherlock Holmes, and that I have told you the truth of this case.

But even in his dreams, he would never realize...

It's a battle of wits, Watson!!

We will find a gap in his defenses!

...And I'm ready!!

Police!

Will you all please vacate the room!

I just asked Miki to get help from the front desk.

Now that I think of it... what brings you here, Kuwakawa-san?

I asked what it was all about and now here I am. ...I couldn't just walk away.

...I
happened to come across some excitement in the lobby.

He's plotting something!

Maybe...

Is he trying to gauge how the investigation is going, or...?

Kumakawa has made a move!!

My sister is a detective in the Violent Crimes Division!

See? She sent me this picture when she got her assignment!

Umm, excuse me!!

Can we help, too?!

I'll just call them and make sure it's okay.

H... have they?

Actually, my family's been a police family since my grandpa's time!

What?!

ARI

I know she's your sister, but how did you convince her, Watson?

HEH HEH.

I didn't. I made it up.

AA

You don't mind, do you, Detective?

My sister told us to help out with the investigation.

Well... she is in Violent Crimes...

We have a time limit.

I'll be there in an hour! You understand me, Takeru?

I've been notified! You do everything the police tell you!

My sister's a total stickler for the rules...

...or they won't let us civilians near the scene of the crime again!

One hour!

Right! One hour!!

We'd better solve this by then...

We entertainers don't usually throw our fan mail away like this.

I see! We'll look into it right away!

Huh...? These are...

Detective! I found something!

Huh?

...I knew it.

They're all in the same style of envelope, on the same stationery.

From a stalker...? There are so many...

What?! Are...are these...

She was worried that she made him angry, and that he'd be back for revenge!

She made it very clear that she didn't want him there.

She said she'd gotten several letters from a stalker, and that he came to her on location once.

Knew...? Knew what?

All right....

I see his game, Watson!

I know what he's after!

And followed her to her hotel room?

What if the stalker found where she was,

What do you mean?

Are they really all from the same person?

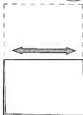

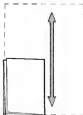

These letters.

You think so?

Horizontal First, then vertical—the easy way to do it.

You do it like on these two letters.

It's probably just a habit of whoever sent them.

Not all the others letters are folded the other way.

This is your schedule, right, Kumakawa-san?

Would you look at that. It's folded the same way!

YOU...

YOU LITTLE BRAT!!

GRIN

Folding vertically first, I mean.

Maybe it's not so unusual after all.
